Some eighty odd men were due to appear at the postoffice today for the purpose of taking the civil service examination, to qualify for positions as rural letter carriers.

The large number proposing to take the examination at this time is due to a vacancy that has occurred on Route 5, out of Dothan. When one considers that this job pays a little over $90 each month, it is easy to understand why there are so many who would like to have the place. Ninety dollar jobs are not easily found in the South these days.

Pastor Fights Fire With Garden Hose

That he can fight fire and the devil both if necessary was demonstrated shortly after noon today, when the residence of Rev. W. H. Tew, pastor of the Headland Avenue Baptist church, caught fire presumably from sparks from a chimney. The preacher procured a line of garden hose, and let loose a stream of water towards the fire, with good effect.

Rev. Tew lives in a house on West Powell street, formerly occupied by J. A. Bowdon. The fire department made a quick run to the house, and finished putting out the fire. A small hole was burned in the roof, the loss being very small.

RELIGIOUS REALM

Lesson Text.

4. And Deborah, a prophetess, the wife of Lapidoth, she judged Israel at that time.

5. And she dwelt under the palm tree of Deborah between Ramah and Bethel in mount Ephraim: and the children of Israel came up to her for judgment.

6. And she sent and called Barak the son of Abinoam, out of Kedeshnaphthali, and said unto him, Hath not the Lord God of Israel commanded, saying, Go and draw toward mount Tabor, and take with thee ten thousand men of the children of Naphtali and of the children of Zebulun?

7. And I will draw unto thee to the river Kishon, Sisera, the captain of Jabin's army, with his chariots and his multitude. And I will deliver him into thine hand.

8. And Barak said unto her, If thou wilt go with me, then I will go; but if thou wilt not go with me, then I will not go.

9. And she said, I will surely go with thee: notwithstanding the journey that thou takest shall not be for thine honour; for the Lord shall sell Sisera into the hand of a woman. And Deborah arose, and went with Barak to Kedesh.

10. And Barak called Zebulun and Naphtali to Kedesh, and he went up with ten thousand men at his feet; and Deborah went up with him.

11. Now Heber the Kenite, which was of the children of Holiab the father-in-law of Moses, had severed himself from the Kenites and pitched his tent unto the plain of Zaanaim, which is by Kedesh.

12. And they shewed Sisera that Barak the son of Abinoam was gone up to mount Tabor.

13. And Sisera gathered to gether all his chariots, even nine hundred chariots of iron, and all the people that were with him, from Harosheth of the Gentiles unto the river of Kishon.

14. And Deborah said unto Barak, Up for this is the day in which the Lord hath delivered Sisera into thine hand: is not the Lord gone out before thee? So Barak went down from mount Tabor, and ten thousand men after him.

15. And the Lord discomfited Sisera and all his chariots, and all his host, with the edge of the sword before Barak, so that Sisera lighted down off his chariot and fled away on his feet.

16. But Barak pursued after the chariot, and after the host, unto Harosheth of the Gentiles; and all the host of Sisera fell upon the edge of the sword, and there was not a man left.

Annual Conference at First Baptist Church.

The service of the First Baptist Church tomorrow morning is to be one of unusual importance and interest.

For many years this church has been accustomed to bring its work to a rounding up to the first conference in January. Tomorrow is the first conference of this year.

There will be no preaching by the pastor, but there will be reports from all officers of the church and all departments they represent, and plans will be outlined for the coming year.

The pastor, Rev. E. H. Jennings, will present his report to the church, showing that the past year has been by far the most prosperous of all the four years of his pastorate here, from the point of both increase in membership and also in money given to various causes.

Superintendent of the Sunday school, Prof. J. A. Brown, will make a report from the Bible School, and the treasurer, Mr. W. W. Whiddon, will report the financial condition of the church expenses, as will also Mr. R. F. Valentine, the missionary treasurer, for the mission funds.

Officers will be elected for the coming year, also the members of the active Board of Deacons.

This meeting is no small event for the church, and the pastor and deacons urge that every member of the church be present and take part in the conference. This should be a sort of home-coming day for all the members of the church.

Sunday School meets at 9:40.

CHIEF GETS CONFESSIONS OF ROBBERY

Burglars Take About $145 from Safe in Bartlett's Store and Try to Burn Building--Two Negroes Arrested.

By persistent questioning Chief of Police C. J. Rollins today obtained confessions from Jesse Moore and Willie Holmes, negroes, that it was they who robbed and attempted to burn Frank Bartlett's store at an early hour this morning.

The chief says each confession was obtained separately. Following the action of the negroes in admitting the robbery, $40 of the stolen money was recovered at different places.

Hidden in one of Jesse Moore's shoes, which he wore at the time, the police found $19, and $1.90 was taken out of his pocket. The police found $1.00 hidden in a pocket book in a room where Willie Holmes slept, while $4.00 was recovered from Holmes' mother. The sum of $34.90 was located under a smoke house at Holmes' residence. This makes a total of $63.90 that has been recovered.

Following the alleged confessions the negroes were turned over to Sheriff R. O. Hays, and locked in the county jail on warrants charging robbery and arson.

Spivey Sees Smoke.

While on the way home at an early hour this morning, Police Officer E. O. Spivey saw smoke in the building and rushing to the telephone at the power plant, he notified the fire station. The firemen answered the alarm promptly, and found fire under some shelving which was put out with a bucket of water.

Police Officer Spivey was joined by Police Officer Reeves, and the two located and arrested Willie Holmes, a negro in connection with the burglary and attempted destruction of the store. The negro, it is said, worked at the store and knew one of the combinations to the safe.

Chief of Police Rollins and Jesse Moore, another negro, placed under arrest this morning and both negroes are now being held in the city jail, pending developments. The police are confident the negroes know something of the affair.

It is said that an attempt was made to burglarize Bartlett's store a few nights ago, but the attempters did not succeed in obtaining much of value.

The police look upon the negro Moore with a great deal of suspicion for they believe he was implicated in the robbery of Porter's hardware store several months ago.

Classes suited to all. The Baptist Young Peoples' Union meets at 6:15. This society has reorganized with Prof. O. O. Tolleson as president. Prof. Southernland will lead the meeting tomorrow evening with group one.

At seven in the evening the usual Sunday evening preaching service will be held and the pastor will conclude the series of sermons on the Devil, the special subject being, "Satan's final overthrow."

Missionary Society.

The literary meeting of the Missionary Society of Foster Street Methodist church will meet Monday afternoon, January 11th at 3 p. m. Please give us a full attendance and hear something of our work for this year. Mrs. J. R. Crawford.

U. S. MAKES LITTLE GIRL, -AGED EIGHT, A PRISONER.

MISS MARY STITT.

New York, Jan. 7. After traveling alone all the way from Maudslough, England to New York on board the steamship Arabia to join her father, who is in Quincy, Mass., Miss Mary Stitt, aged eight, the pet of all the passengers on the voyage over as a prisoner of the United States government. Little Mary laughed and cried with joy when her father dashed up the gangplank and hugged and kissed her and told her of the happy times they would have in their new home. But when they were about to leave the pier an immigration officer stopped Mr. Stitt and told him he could not have the child until he produce proof of parentage. While Papa Stitt is cutting his way out of a maze of red tape, his little girl must remain in the detention ward on Ellis Island.

MEXICANS FIGHTING IN CITY OF SALTILLO

Laredo, Tex., Jan. 8.—The battle of Saltillo, expected for several days began at 3 o'clock this morning, according to an official Carranza announcement at New Laredo today. The fighting is not in the city, but outside, the Carranza forces having evacuated Saltillo two days ago, retreating toward Hipolito. The official message was still going on.

Fire destroyed a frame building on Lane this morning at 1:05 o'clock while the Bremen was in alarm promptly, the fire was falling in when they moved. The firemen moved two by buildings.

Fire Chief Barber said he greatly handicapped in obtaining information about the building which is said to have been pilied by a negro named Simpson. They had another that the structure was piled.

When the firemen arrived found the building was so badly damaged that they realized it was useless to make an attempt to save the building. Two adjoining buildings, however, caught fire, but extinguished by streams of water.

Anyway, there are no women villains in the city as men villains.

"From one of the troops aimed at my adversary, away. It was an easy shot. I was sure of success. I just pulling the trigger. I was clear, my bullet fell."

"Suddenly I staggered and when I recovered I my rifle damaged at the and chamber. I had a wound in my forehead. I heard my rifle, and found a barrel a French and a bullet, both flattened, in the chamber."

"After a close examination discovered that a Frenchman had entered my rifle at the side, had followed the barrel, had emptied the cartridge and the bullet fell, and thus had wounded me."

POLAND'S MUD BALKANS

London, Jan. 8.—The teaching London show General Von Hindenburg the commander in Poland at the time has made no progress toward Warsaw and of Poland evidence done for him what the dikes and the mud had done for the German Mlanders.

A despatch to London from penhagen declares that Hindenburg is expecting reinforcements, and that an army of one million men powers to make one more effort to break through the Polish capital. The Germans appear to have had to reinforce their strength their German Warsaw and Berlin think the mud was which the western troops come famous, will be the region of the Polish.

Labor Progress in 1914.

By Dr. Frank Crane.

One of the most encouraging signs of the times is a growing indication that legislators are making an effort to "scrapple" scientifically with the most pressing problems of industrial maladjustments, to use the language of John B. Andrews, secretary of the American Association for Labor Legislation.

The year 1914 shows considerable progress. It is not all color and not all equally intelligent, but it shows that something is doing.

Congress has declared that the "labor of a human being is not a commodity of commerce." Hence the Sherman act cannot be used against trade unions. Congress has also strictly regulated the use of injunctions by federal courts in labor disputes, and has established an eight-hour day for female workers in the District of Columbia.

New York has established a state-wide system of public employment bureaus.

New York city has opened what has been called the best equipped public employment exchange in the country.

New York's compensation laws were adopted in New York, Maryland, Kentucky and Louisiana.

Four states gave attention to protecting industrial workers from fire.

Maryland passed two laws regulating canneries and tannery workshops.

The Territory of Alaska and three States legislated upon the subject of safety in mines.

Eleven States took action on child labor—Arkansas, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, and Virginia passed new codes, and other States amended their laws tending to raise age limits and educational requirements to shorten hours and forbid hazardous employment and night work for children.

Twenty-four states, a half of those in the Union, now have workmen's compensation laws.

Louisiana and Massachusetts protected workmen in their right to organize.

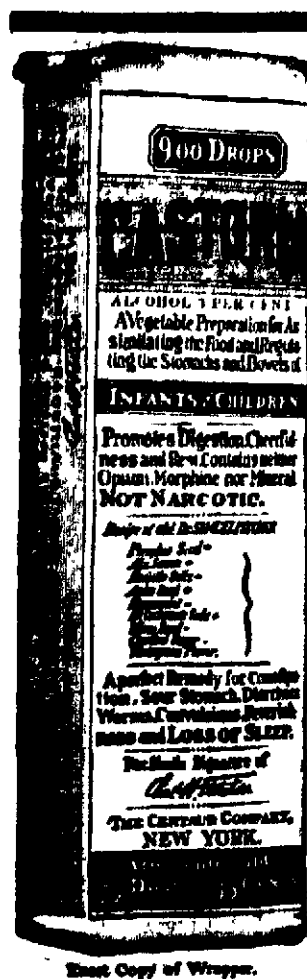

The people of the State of Washington practically abolished private employment agencies by prohibiting the taking of fees from applicants for work.

On account of the experience of last winter three states, Louisiana, Maryland and New York—made provision for public bureaus to put employment givers and employment seekers in touch with one another.

The above facts have been taken from the bulletin recently issued of the American Association for Labor Legislation.

So be patient, brothers! This great, free people is going forward steadily but surely. Why, there was a meeting of two great philosophical associations the other day at the University of Chicago, where Dr. Wendell T. Bush of Columbia said:

"We are getting away from academic traditions. Philosophy is beginning to concern itself with things of real human interest, not with purely technical matters. The question that faces us today is: What can philosophy contribute to the conception of justice?

Justice, justice is the thing. We are all working toward it, each in his own way. And that means that

Sweeter shall the roses blow In those far years, those happier years;

And children weep when we be low Far fewer tears, far softer tears.

Is Something Wrong?

In regard to what The Times said about Captain Hobson being disowned by Alabama, stating that the State was prouder of him now, and had every cause to be, than ever before, The Huntsville Times says that "Captain Hobson is one of the world's greatest thinkers and foremost citizens, a leader in the thought and action of this age. He keeps the United States prominently on the map, and Alabama always to the forefront. Hobson will be president. Alabama indeed is proud of him." It is ridiculous to talk of the state disowning Captain Hobson. He is one of her greatest and ablest and noblest sons, and there is yet a great future ahead of him. The statement is father to the thought—he is in somebody's way. —Montgomery Times

Grip Left Me With a Cough

If during the winter you had the grip and are still suffering from the after effects, now is the time to get rid of it. Peruna is your remedy.

A Very Bad Cough.
Mrs. E. J. Knapik, 2015 Second St., Nashville, Tenn., writes: "I have had a very bad cough nearly all my life. I have taken almost every kind of cough medicine, but none did me much good. I would have spells of coughing that I thought I would cough myself to death. I took Peruna and last winter and this winter I have had no cough and I know that Peruna cured me."

A Severe Case of Grip.
Mrs. W. E. Brown, R. F. D. 4, Box 63, Rogersville, Tenn., writes: "I recommend Peruna to all sufferers of catarrh or cough. In the year of 1909 I took a severe case of the grippe. I then took a bad cough. Everybody thought I had consumption. I had taken all kinds of cough remedies, but got no relief. I then decided to try Peruna. After taking five bottles, my cough stopped and my catarrh was cured. Any one suffering with catarrh in any form I will advise them to take Peruna."

I hold the souls of all the world,
The little souls so mad for joy,
They drink the wines of wickedness,
They clasp for gold with dress alloy;
The languid souls, insurians,
That pass like watchers at a play,
That demure to white and chill
Nor heed at all the common day;
The mighty souls so great in grief,
The burning souls so swift in song;
The tender, silent souls of peace,
They one and all to me belong.

Beneath my temple gate they bend,
Before my sombre shrines they bow
And each unto its secret self
Repeats its one impassioned vow,
They term me cruel and protest,
They term me might and rebel,
Yet never guess the sacrifice,
Yet made because I love them well.

Mine is the harlot's soul that weeps,
Mine are the priests who kneel to pray,
The maid who dreams, the child who laughs,
The thief who hides his heart away,
And he is late or he is soon
To serf in chains, to lord above,
I set upon each pallid brow
The deathless symbol of my love!

The Great Guest Comes.

Edwin Markham,
While the cobbler mused, the passed his pane
A beggar drenched by the drizzling rain.
He culled him from the stormy street
And gave him shoes for his bruised feet.
The beggar went, and there came a crowd,
Her face with wrinkles of sorrow sown,
A bundle of ragged hags bowed her back,
And she was spent with the wren and rack.
He gave her his loaf and steadied her load
As she took her way on the weary road.
Then to his door came a little child,
Lost and afraid in the world,
In the big, dark world. Catching it up,
He gave it the milk in the waiting cup,
And led it home to its mother's arms
Out of the reach of the world's alarms.
The day went down in the crimson west,
And with it the hope of the blessed guest;
And Conrad sized as the world turned gray,
"Why is it, Lord, that your feet delay?"
Did you forget that this was the day?"

Then, soft, in the silence a voice was heard:
"Lift up your heart, for I have kept my word.
Three times, I came to your friendly door,
I was the beggar with bruised feet—
I was the woman you gave to eat—
I was the child on the homeless street."

A Beautiful Book by a Southern Woman—

Beautifully written and with a sweet noble mission, the little book, "Yet Speaketh He," by Gertrude Caplan Whitney is sure to please every reader. The story taken from life is woven from the threads of thought of a child as he stood before the monument of a little hero. This hero is a little southerner, who learned in a school at Augusta, Ga., hoping to save the life of a baby who had fallen into the "forbidden stream." In a clear sweet manner and with a sympathetic pen Miss Whitney has shown how this little lad strives, and not in vain, to prove that in him this hope had been up his life to another, to stand and his noble deeds still lived to the passer by, inspiring them to accomplish some great good. As Amanda proves, in each life, there are great joys and great sorrows, the tender sorrows lessened by the experiences, the happiness, and the love of the world.—Mobile Item.

STOMACH TROUBLES

Mr. Ragland Writes Interesting Letter on This Subject.

Madison Heights, Va.—Mr. Chas. A. Ragland, of this place, writes: "I have been taking Theodor's Black-Draught for indigestion, and other stomach troubles, also colds, and find it to be the very best medicine I have ever used."

After taking Black-Draught for a few days, I always feel like a new man. Nervousness, nausea, heartburn, pain in pit of stomach, and a feeling of fullness after eating, are sure symptoms of stomach trouble, and should be given the proper treatment, as your strength and health depend very largely upon your food and its digestion.

To get quick and permanent relief from these ailments, you should take a medicine of known curative merit. In 75 years of splendid success, in the treatment of just such troubles, proves the real merit of Theodor's Black-Draught. Safe, pleasant, gentle in action, and without bad after-effects, it is sure to benefit both young and old. For sale everywhere. Price 25c. N. C. 12.

THE GOOD LOSER

"Puttignew is the best loser I ever saw," remarked the drug get. "He put every ounce of energy into his campaign, and had every reason to believe he would win, but when the votes were counted he was the worst kind of a loser also. Yet when he heard the sickening details he was as cheerful as ever, and surrounded with a beaming smile saying there were no more losers."

"I don't admire a man of that kind," confessed the village peddler. "I wouldn't trust such a fellow. I don't know how I could throw my vote for him. He has always been a loser."

vertices his sincerity that way. Sincerity is the finest quality one can possess. If he has that he always will be respected whatever faults he may have. With out sincerity, he is like tinkling cymbals and sounding brass.

"The defeated candidate seems to think it heroic to go around pretending he enjoys it, but it's more foolish than heroic. He may fool a few druggists and other superficial observers, and make them think that he is a great institution, but wise men view him with alarm, and feel that he will bear watching. If a man pretends to enjoy being licked at the polls, of what value are any of his pretensions?"

"The last time I ran for police judge, several years ago, I was snowed under so badly it took me about a month to dig my way out. And I was as mad as a hen that had been left out in the rain over night. I was covered with sore spots, and admitted the fact freely when my friends questioned me about it. I might have smiled a pallid smile had I been beaten by a narrow margin, but the vote against me seemed a direct insult that had to be wiped out in blood.

"My political advisers urged me to curb my righteous wrath and take it good-naturedly. If I did that I could easily be vindicated at the next election. But I didn't care three whoops about being vindicated. What I wanted was revenge, and I went after it. I made life a burden to the men who were responsible for my defeat, and most people applauded me, for most people admire a good fighter, and have respect for the man who takes the warpath when the harpoon has been administered to him.

"When it was about time for the next campaign to open, delegation after delegation came and asked me to be a candidate for police judge, but I told them that I was done with politics. Then the demand became frantic, but I was firm. Had I become a candidate, I feel sure I'd have been elected by the biggest majority you ever heard of, for the whole town was with me.

"Had I gone around smiling when I was defeated so badly, insisting that I was passionately fond of being stamped into the ground, a few misguided pharmacists might have called me a good loser, but men of sense would have denounced me as a faker.

"Sincerity always pays in the long run, my friends. In politics we see some of the level-headed old wheel-horses in office year after year, until they get too old to draw a single vote. They are shaking hands with the people know they are and sincere.

the people know they are and sincere.

"The political reformer always fizzles out in no time. They go up like a balloon and come down like a stone. A while ago we saw their picture in all the newspapers and we and marvel at their methods, and think they were the best of a sudden they are in order to attract attention have to recommend a political line and get their picture in the newspapers. Now we can never see them again."
